Description of workshop: Make them today, use them tomorrow! This workshop will introduce Plickers and explore ways to use them as a tool to gather student data. This is entirely a hands-on session. We will begin in the computer lab to introduce Plickers and set up our own free accounts. Then we will move to the art room where we will get crafty and create our magnets. Our final stop will be the gym to share and brainstorm ways that we can utilize this tool with our classes.
